

Graphic Designer, New Delhi, India

Consure Medical is an exciting medical device company that develops novel products for the management of discreet and intimate healthcare needs. As a graphic designer, you will routinely work on projects spreading across strategy, print, packaging, brand identity, and interactive designs for products, sales and marketing materials, and company collaterals. Working at Consure means you'll tackle all aspects of the design process from user research to physical prototyping to telling the project story. If you're a creative thinker who possesses a passion for designing beautiful, unique and thoughtful work, we should talk.

Key Responsibilities:

- Work on a variety of projects that integrate digital, graphic, and product design.
- Collaborate with team members with backgrounds in engineering, medicine, and business.
- Create rapid concepts prototypes and high quality, production level work for shipping product for both print and screen.
- Be an advocate of exceptional visual design.
- Help the company empathize with users by creating deliverables that tell a compelling story.

Relevant Experiences:

- 1-3 year of experience with skills in print, web, and digital design, with applications in physical/digital products and graphic communications with an eye for visual detail.
- Demonstrated expertise in tools such as InDesign, Illustrator, Photoshop, Keynote, and MS Office.
- A demonstrated design sensibility and a knack for producing effective, engaging visual communication layouts and prototypes.
- Exceptional communication and storytelling skills.
- Passion for healthcare, visual design, and pushing boundaries.

If you're interested and have zeal to change the way hospital care is provided, please send a portfolio or samples of relevant work that demonstrates your process as a graphic/communication designer to info@consuremedical.com.